

Figure 14. Cultivars of the coast redwood (Sequoia sempervirens) show different levels of tolerance to irrigation with recycled water in the landscape. The variety 'Aptos Blue' shows leaf chlorosis and limited new growth on young branches (left). The variety 'Los Altos' shows only slight chlorosis and young branches are actively growing (right).